Job depends on brains, not beauty

Determination and independence are nothing new to Amy Rittenhouse. Rittenhouse, 20, the newest Miss Rancho Cucamonga, doesn't consider herself a beauty queen but rather someone who has been asked to be an ambassador.

"They were looking more for a thinking girl," Rittenhouse said. "Someone who was intelligent."

She moved from her hometown of Carrollton, Texas, to Rancho Cucamonga when she was 18.

"I guess I'm a little more mature," she said. "Moving out forces you to grow up."

Her reasons for moving to the Golden State were fairly straight forward.

"I wanted a change," she said. "It was like you hear, everybody wants to go west."

She is currently employed as a receptionist at Sycamore Financial Group in Rancho Cucamonga. She said the job allows her to meet business people who work in the city.

It was through her exposure to various business people that she met Dick Dahler, owner of Century 21-Dahler in Rancho Cucamonga, who would in turn sponsor her for the pageant.

As Miss Rancho Cucamonga, she will be asked to attend various city and Chamber of Commerce functions such as grand openings and luncheons.

Rittenhouse, who first aspired to be a children's writer, plans to attend Chaffey College in the fall. While there, she hopes to pursue a career in elementary education.

"A good elementary teacher can have a positive influence on a child's life," she said. "You can really make a difference."

The title has made her more aware of how people view her. "When I wear this sash," she said, "it makes me very conscious to speak to people who look at me, so that they don't just judge me on my appearance."

R.C. anxious to open City Hall

Majority of work reported to be finished

By Kenneth Houck
Bulletin Staff Writer

In the case of Rancho Cucamonga's new City Hall, it's better to be a day late, than a dollar short.

Originally scheduled for completion in November 1989, opening day was pushed back to May and is still not ready.

Despite this, the City Hall is scheduled to be dedicated July 4. While some offices have yet to be completed, the majority of the work is finished, Deputy City Manager Linda Daniels said.

"It is mostly detail work," Daniels said. "There is no one thing, just a lot of little things."

The City Hall's estimated cost is $18 million and was partially paid for with redevelopment money.

Daniels, who has been overseeing the civic center project since 1985, said calculations determining the civic center's overall cost will not be available until after the project is complete.

Daniels said that a contingency fund was established for delays and cost overruns.

"We haven't exceeded our budget amounts," Daniels said. She added that several different funds had been established to handle various aspects of the project such as office furniture and landscaping.

Mayor Dennis L. Stout believes the delays will be worthwhile. "We knew from the very beginning that it was going to take a long time," Stout said. "We wanted them to do it right, not quickly."

Stout likened the project to the great pyramids of Egypt which took 20 years to build.

"The building should last for 100 years," he said. "It should work out to be a wise investment."

Building of the six-acre civic center began in October 1987 and was scheduled to be complete in two years.

It is a three-story brick building with a copper-topped rotunda. It will have Italian granite flooring at the entryway, and will house a council chamber, police headquarters, conference rooms and the all of the city's department offices.

Since 1977, City Hall has consisted of a group of leased offices scattered among three buildings near the corner of Base Line Road and Hellman Avenues. Often city residents would get lost travelling from building to building, Stout said.

"We're still providing a high level of service," Daniels said. "But the new

Rail aficionados' restoration of steam locomotive on track

By Kenneth Houck
Bulletin Staff Writer

For a historical railroad society, restoring a steam locomotive isn't like playing with a toy train.

However, it is that fascination with railroading that has brought members of the Fontana-based San Bernardino Railroad Society together to restore vintage locomotives.

Most have nothing in common except a love of railroads, mechanical craftsmanship and historical preservation.

"I was always nuts about railroad steam locomotives," Bill Garner, 85, said. "I was in this from the very start."

Garner, a former Santa Fe employee, said members don't have to have an extensive mechanical background to participate in the restoration of an engine.

"We just put them on a job that's fairly simple," Garner said. "As they advance along we put them on more difficult projects."

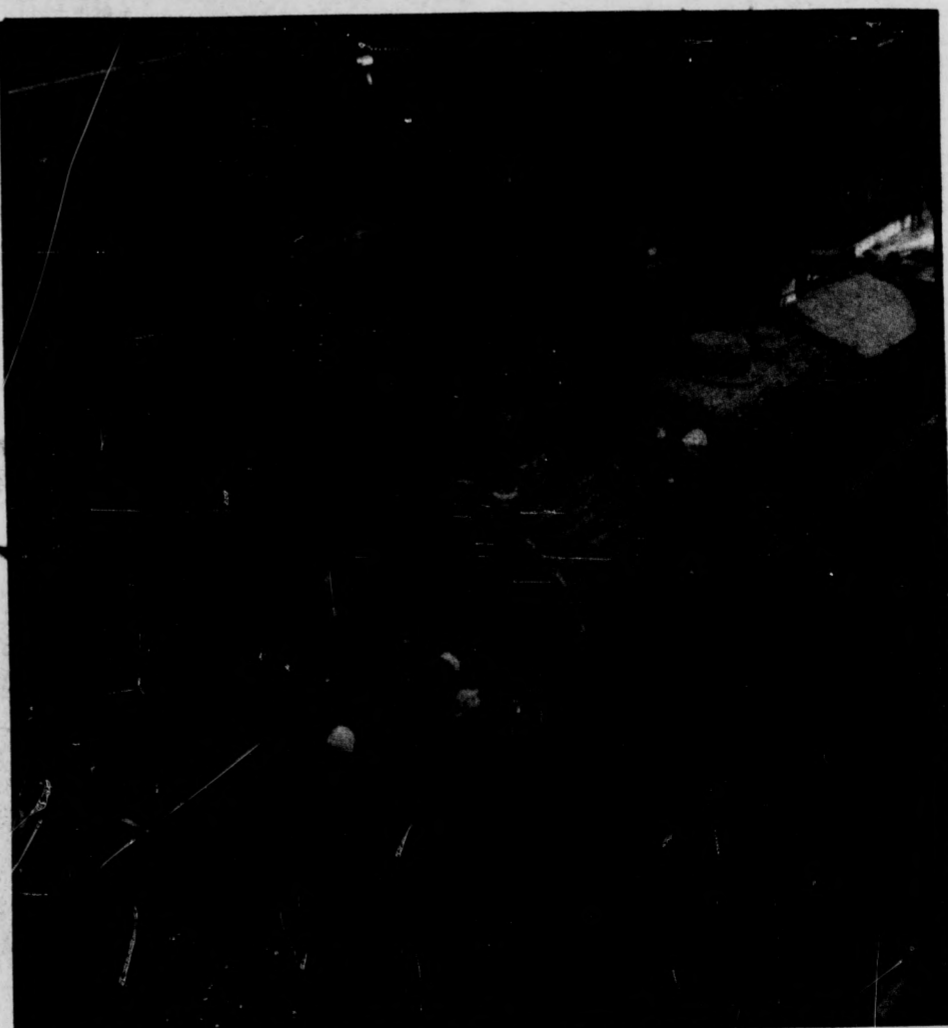

Presently the group is restoring Santa Fe engine No. 3751 to its original condition when it rumbled along the rails of the West. The engine is a Pioneer 4-8-4 — with four leading wheels, eight drive wheels and four trailing wheels.

During the past three years, the society has been restoring the locomotive currently stored at California Steel Industries in Fontana.

But the task hasn't been an easy one. Parts have rusted, blueprints don't always exist and money is short.

Prior to housing the engine at the site in Fontana, it had stood outside Viaduct Park near the San Bernardino railroad station for more than 28 years, said Scott Brittin, society president.

At the park the engine had suffered damage from the sun, wind and rain, as well as vandals, Brittin said.

Workers restore cab controls on the giant passenger train engine.

"These were working machines," Brittin said. "They were not intended to be just parked somewhere."

Every Saturday and often on Fridays anywhere from eight to 15 volunteers are hard at work restoring the engine.

Members of the society range in age from 18 to 85, from various locales around Southern California.

Although the society has raised and spent $75,000 to fund the restoration, $325,000 is still needed to complete the project, Brittin said.

Brittin and the other society members hope to have the engine ready for the 10th anniversary of the California State Railroad Museum, in Sacramento.

Firefighters' donation fills up fund

By Suzanne Sproul
Bulletin Staff Writer

Firefighters have helped push the Upland YMCA annual campaign over the top.

The Upland Firefighters Association has donated $500 to the youth organization. A large chunk of the donation is from money the firefighters group raised last year from its yearly golf tourney.

The tourney is scheduled again this year and the public is invited to participate, said Firefighter Mike Munoz. The tournament is planned Aug. 25 at Upland Hills Country Club. Registration is $75 and can be completed at the main downtown fire station.

The money, which will be used to support various YMCA programs in the city, helped the organization top its projected goal this year of $40,000, according to Scott Goldstein, Upland YMCA executive director. The donation was made recently by firefighters Ricky Lee, Mike Munoz and Tim Torrey, firefighter association vice president.

"We've just ended our annual current support campaign. We are very grateful for the gift from the firefighters," Goldstein said.

Overall, the local campaign raised $44,204. The money is used to support communitywide programs, day camps, residence summer camps, child-care activities and youth sports.

Lee said his group was pleased to help. "As firefighters we like to stay involved in our community. We have fund-raisers all year round and we try to donate to worthy causes," he said.

The Upland YMCA summer day camp program's first session begins June 18 at Baldy View Elementary School, 979 W. 11th St. It is open to children 5 to 12 years old.

Talk of the town

Is your address Rancho Cucamonga, Etiwanda, Alta Loma or Cucamonga?

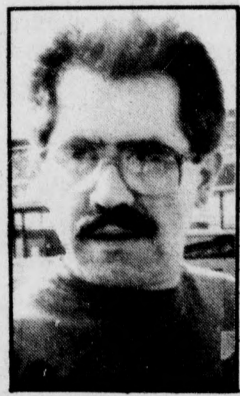

(Asked at Stater Bros. shopping center at Carnelian Avenue and Base Line Road.)

Karen Anderson, 37

receiving manager
Rancho Cucamonga

I write Cucamonga, because I'm not used to writing Rancho Cucamonga. When you go to meetings people from Alta Loma think they are higher up.

Fred Unzueta, 47

hair stylist
Rancho Cucamonga

I live in Rancho Cucamonga, that is just the way it is. I see it as separate and it is still confusing. I think they (the City Council) should make up their minds.

David Archibald, 54

Sears employee
Rancho Cucamonga

I just moved here. I refer to it as Rancho Cucamonga. It would seem ludicrous for people to say that they live somewhere when they don't.

Peggy Thornton, 42

nurse
Rancho Cucamonga

I grew up in the area, but when I moved here it was Rancho Cucamonga. There still are distinct differences, but I think these will lessen as more people move in.

Jim Simola, 47

General Telephone employee
Rancho Cucamonga

I address it as Cucamonga or R. Cucamonga because it is shorter. I don't think that it makes that much of a difference.

Around town

Amy Rittenhouse named this year's Miss Rancho Cucamonga

Amy Rittenhouse was recently chosen Miss Rancho Cucamonga 1990 from a group of 21 young Rancho Cucamonga ladies.

Rittenhouse, sponsored by Century 21-Dahler, was joined by first runner-up Cynthia Murphy, sponsored by Dynasty Gymnastics, second runner-up Tracy Pendleton, sponsored by Swan Pools, and 18 other participants.

Participants and their sponsors included Jessica Acosta — Carl's Limousine; Suzie Adamson — Town & Country Liquor; Susan Buck — Auto Restorators; Aimee Campbell — Urgent Care Center/Alta Loma Medical; Shannon Campbell (not sisters) — Robinson Bros. Construction; Michele Cutshell — Mitchell & Son Plumbing; Patricia Fatta — Ram Business System; Jennifer Gray — South Pacific Financial Corp.; Michelle Hanley — DCA Cablevision; Kristy Harrington — Sir Speedy Printing; Catherine Jauergui — Cucamonga Printing Co.; Desiree Liatti — Shear Haven; Guinevere Malley — Rancho Magazine; Kelly McNally — San Bernardino County Central Credit Union; Lisa Mejia — Security Management/Investment Co.; Kristine Miranda — Shaup Enterprises; Wendy Percival — Wilson Bros. Grinding Inc.;

and Laura Wood — A P Financial.

The process of finding a new Miss Rancho Cucamonga each year includes the application period and then several weeks of seminars, rehearsals, and general preparation. The ladies are treated to a color and fashion seminar, hair styling and manicuring, personal interview techniques, modeling, presentation, and dance.

Ten days prior to the Pageant, participants took part in the first segment of judging, the personal interview. Five judges visited with the girls, asking them questions and learning a little bit more about each one of them.

When the participants took to the stage for the opening musical number they were ready to give their all and have a good time thanks to Diane Dyan and Olympic Studios. Fun, learning, and making new friends is all a part of what makes the Miss Rancho Cucamonga Pageant the success it has been for the past 11 years.

The 1990 theme was international and when the curtains parted and the dancers, in international costume, began to perform to "It's A Small World" the evening was launched.

Following the opening number, pageant master of ceremonies KNTF Radio's, Kevin O'Neill, introduced the participants the international costumes of their choice.

Each young lady was asked a question related to the theme for the evening.

The second judging segment for the evening was evening gown, and the girls were looking their loveliest. Each of the young ladies was escorted by a gentleman in black tie and presented to the audience.

And then the final announcements. In addition to Miss Rancho Cucamonga and the first two runners-up, the pageant gave trophies to Kristy Harrington, Miss Congeniality who is selected by her peers; and Cynthia Murphy, Miss Photogenic, selected by the Pageant's Photographer Teri Dimon.

Miss Rancho Cucamonga, in addition to her crown and title, also receives a $500 cash prize, a trophy, and a dozen roses. The two runners-up receive their crowns, $300 and $200 cash prizes respectively, trophies, and roses.

Churches involve children and make families feel comfortable

I'm continually surprised at the changes our 7-month-old daughter has brought to my husband's and my lives. Each day she innocently explores the world around her and finds delight in the simplest things. Our dog's green block squeak toy is a particular favorite, unfortunately.

Now we knew we were in for changes. We gladly accepted the prospects even before she was born. Like most working couples we usually viewed Sundays as days to rest and goof off. Church was something we had attended when we were young and probably would attend again when we were older, much older. But my husband said we owed it to our new baby and to ourselves to find a church we liked and to become involved. As usual he was right.

We found our church home at St. Mark's Episcopal Church. We were and continue to be impressed with the parishioners and their involvement in the community, particularly their efforts to help the hungry and homeless.

It seems a lot of young people our age, in their 30's, are returning to church. That topic came up recently when I talked with the Rev. Raymond Vance of Grace Lutheran Church in Upland, a church which is seeing such growth. Vance and Jon Jaqua, church public relations chairman, invited me to the 21st Street church to discuss what the congregation was doing.

I told them I didn't write for the religion page but was happy to hear about the church.

"Many congregations locally such as ours are outgrowing their facilities. Baby boomers are moving here for affordable housing and good schools and churches are picking up on that aspect of the changing community," Vance said.

About 60 percent of Grace Lutheran's present congregation is made up of people who have joined in the past three years. When he started at the church, Vance said, there were seven children in Sunday school. Now there's about 100. About 200 of the 700 members of the church are 18 years old or younger.

"I got some of the best advice about my job from a waitress. She said whenever she would seat a family at her station she would make sure the child got a cracker and some water first. Once a child is settled, she said, the entire family is. That's true with attending church. I think today's young parents have a renewed commitment to their children and part of that commitment involves church," the pastor said. "Some people say that our children are the church people of tomorrow. I say they're the church people of today."

Grace Lutheran operates a school because education is a strong Lutheran belief, he said. The school also is an obvious sign that the church is involved and interested in the community. In addition to the church's youth ministry of Youth Alive (high school students), Kids Club (elementary age children) and preschool groups, three Boy Scout and three Girl Scout troops meet on the church grounds.

And the church also has established adult and community programs such as home visitations, Meals on Wheels and feeding the hungry. I was impressed.

Well, is the reverend right? Are local churches and their members actively involved in the community?

Why not let me and the readers know.

Impressed by area's attitude toward giving

As a relatively newcomer to the Upland/Ontario area (six months) I made an observation recently that seems to me is quite indicative of the mind-set of business persons here.

It was at a Kiwanis meeting. Two presentations — pleas for money — were made. One related to an Upland High School project; money was needed for printing a magazine containing articles and art by the students. The other plea was for tickets to a pancake breakfast, with the money to be used to help the children in this area.

Now, the thing which impressed me most was this — after the meeting, men and women lined up to give money to these projects. They stood in line ... I was in a bit of a hurry ... I could hardly get out of the meeting room because of the press of people wanting to give ... so of course, I joined them!

I was impressed.

Winifred Vernor and LaRuth Haverfield were chairwoman and co-chairwoman.

The students selected must have the qualities of leadership, dependability, service and patriotism. Each student selected wrote an essay under the heading, "Our American Heritage and My Responsibility to Preserve It."

Pins and certificates were presented to the following honorees:

● Keri Webb of Alta Loma is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Webb. Her school counselor is Mary Moffatt. 4 homes open to public for neonatal unit

By Suzanne Sproul
Bulletin Staff Writer

Four homes were opened to the public recently so one day San Antonio Community Hospital will house a neonatal unit for needy children.

Money raised from the weekend San Antonio Community Hospital Auxiliary's "Home - Health - Happiness Home Tour" will go toward the $250,000 pledged by the volunteer group.

"The auxiliary made a five-year pledge to raise $250,000 for the neonatal unit. It should be under construction shortly," said Margaret Stewart, auxiliary president. Proceeds raised from the fourth tour will be presented to the hospital May 21 during the auxiliary's annual meeting.

More than 1,400 tickets were sold as crowds toured selected homes in Alta Loma, Upland and Ontario. The tour ended with refreshments at the new Rancho San Antonio Medical Center outpatient facility in Rancho Cucamonga.

Although each house was worthy of special consideration, visitors lined up continuously throughout the day to glimpse the 10,000-square-foot Alta

Loma home of Ralph and Goldy Lewis. The almost museum-like quality of the home, which sits on three acres and is surrounded by beautifully landscaped grounds complete with a waterfall and 2,000-square-foot cabana, was clearly a crowd pleaser.

Rogers Flower Shop in Ontario provided pieces throughout the house, accenting the looks in various rooms - from the 2,038-square-foot master bedroom suite featuring his and hers walk-in closets and a therapy pool/steam room to the two 270-gallon saltwater fish aquariums featured as wall dividers in the family room.

Family comfort was a key to the design of the 6,000-square-foot Upland home of Drs. Dan and Charlene Zimbroff. Despite the hard look of the Danish handmolded brick exterior, the interior is clearly aimed at providing an inviting atmosphere for family and friends.

Fourteen skylights allow natural sunlight to bathe almost every room of the house, adding a truly open feeling to the surroundings. Particularly eye-catching is the decorated but comfortable-looking formal living room featuring a Tibetan wool rug colored by craftsmen using available berries of that country.

Floral arrangements in the Zimbroff house were provided by Moonlight & Roses Florist of Ontario.

Old World elegance spotlighted in a 1928 Spanish Mediterranean-style house was depicted at the Armsley Square home of George Newberry and Randy Del Turco in Ontario.

Antiques added to the flavor as guests got to view a Strauss crystal chandelier, an 1890 Victorian sofa, two high-back Gothic chairs from 20th Century Fox Studios used in the movies "Forever Amber" and "Blood and Sand," and a 1936 Royal Dalton loving cup.

John Franklin's Florist of Upland helped decorate the house.

And the newly remodeled and redecorated look of the J. Doug Robertson family home also captured the fancy of many guests.

While retaining the original air of the 1955 California ranch style home, Janey Robertson updated the motif with a contemporary Southwestern theme.

The Armsley Square house clearly reflects a need for convenience without sacrificing fun. The master bedroom features a living reef aquarium while the sun room's built-in spa and lighted waterfall were popular with visitors. The colorful lizard-shaped coffee table in the living room brought a smile to everyone's face.

Although the tour again was a successful fund-raiser for the group, the auxiliary has voted to bypass the event next year. Instead, an April 27 dinner and silent/live auction is being planned.

"The success of this year's home tour showed such splendid cooperation from the caring auxiliary people working together with such a variety of homes. They made for a great opportunity for the public to see some of the lifestyles of the 1990s," Stewart said.

More than 200 women donated their time to the event. Tour chairwoman was Bernice Boisvert and home hostesses were Eleanor Schulze, Bettie Andrew, Doris Bullington and Beverly Hutchinson.

The restoration process is time-consuming because every repair and alteration is checked and detailed for historical record and accuracy with existing documents, Brittin said.

The engine was built in 1927 and had gone through a number of modifications while in service before its retirement in 1953, Brittin said.

Because of this, it has been difficult for the society to obtain many of the original blueprints and repair records needed to restore the engine.

Society member Dan Echeto has succeeded in recreating many of the working blueprints by photographing and sketching various engine parts as they were removed.

"There are so many parts, that you just can't rely on memory," Echeto said.

In addition, some of the parts have been so damaged by rust and corrosion that they must be remanufactured by hand with other steam engine parts as models.

Brittin said some historical parts are now being made by companies that specialize in railroad machinery. However, many of the tools used to repair the engine have had to be made by hand from scrap metal.

Those obstacles were made a bit easier to overcome with the help of society member George Maier.

building will allow the public to be serviced easier.

When they finally move, more than 200 city employees will be relocated in two days. "Such things as file cabinets will be moved over as one," Daniels said. "It is not as hard as it sounds."

Stout said despite delays the new City Hall will help to cement pride among residents.

"The city will have a symbolic seat of government," he said. "The public wants it opened as soon as possible."

New golf course ideal for short game practice

By J.L. Sullivan
Bulletin Staff Writer

Inland Valley residents looking to take up the game of golf, or those wishing to regain skills long rusty, can bone up at a course tailored to their needs.

To get there just drive east on Riverside Drive. When you get to the Ontario National Golf Course, keep going. About a half mile down the road, at 3151 E. Riverside, is the Creekside Golf Course.

Nine holes of pitch and putt on a verdant greensward will be found there. For $3 — $4 on weekends — the average hacker can work on his game. New golfers can try their luck and budding skills, needing only three clubs to cover the course.

"We're basically pitch and putt," said George Tibbetts of National Golf and Tennis, which operates the course. "Basically you need a wedge, 9-iron and putter. It's great for working on your short game."

Clubs can be rented at the course for 75¢ apiece.

The course's longest hole is the 90-yard sixth, with the 40-yard fourth the shortest. Tibbetts said Creekside is ideal for golfers who get away from the game — or let it get away from them.

"We get a lot of people haven't played in a long time, or those just beginning," he said.

"People working on their short games; we get all spectrums."

Now six weeks old, the Creekside course has yet to draw overwhelming crowds. A few weeks ago 60 golfers visited, a high-water mark thus far. Tibbetts said people are not yet aware of the course, and that he hopes that changes soon.

"One fella dropped in the other day and said 'it's too bad it isn't open to the public,'" he recalled. "I said it's open to 50 states."

Daily maintenance and watering has kept the course in fine condition, and golfers are not required to wear spikes.

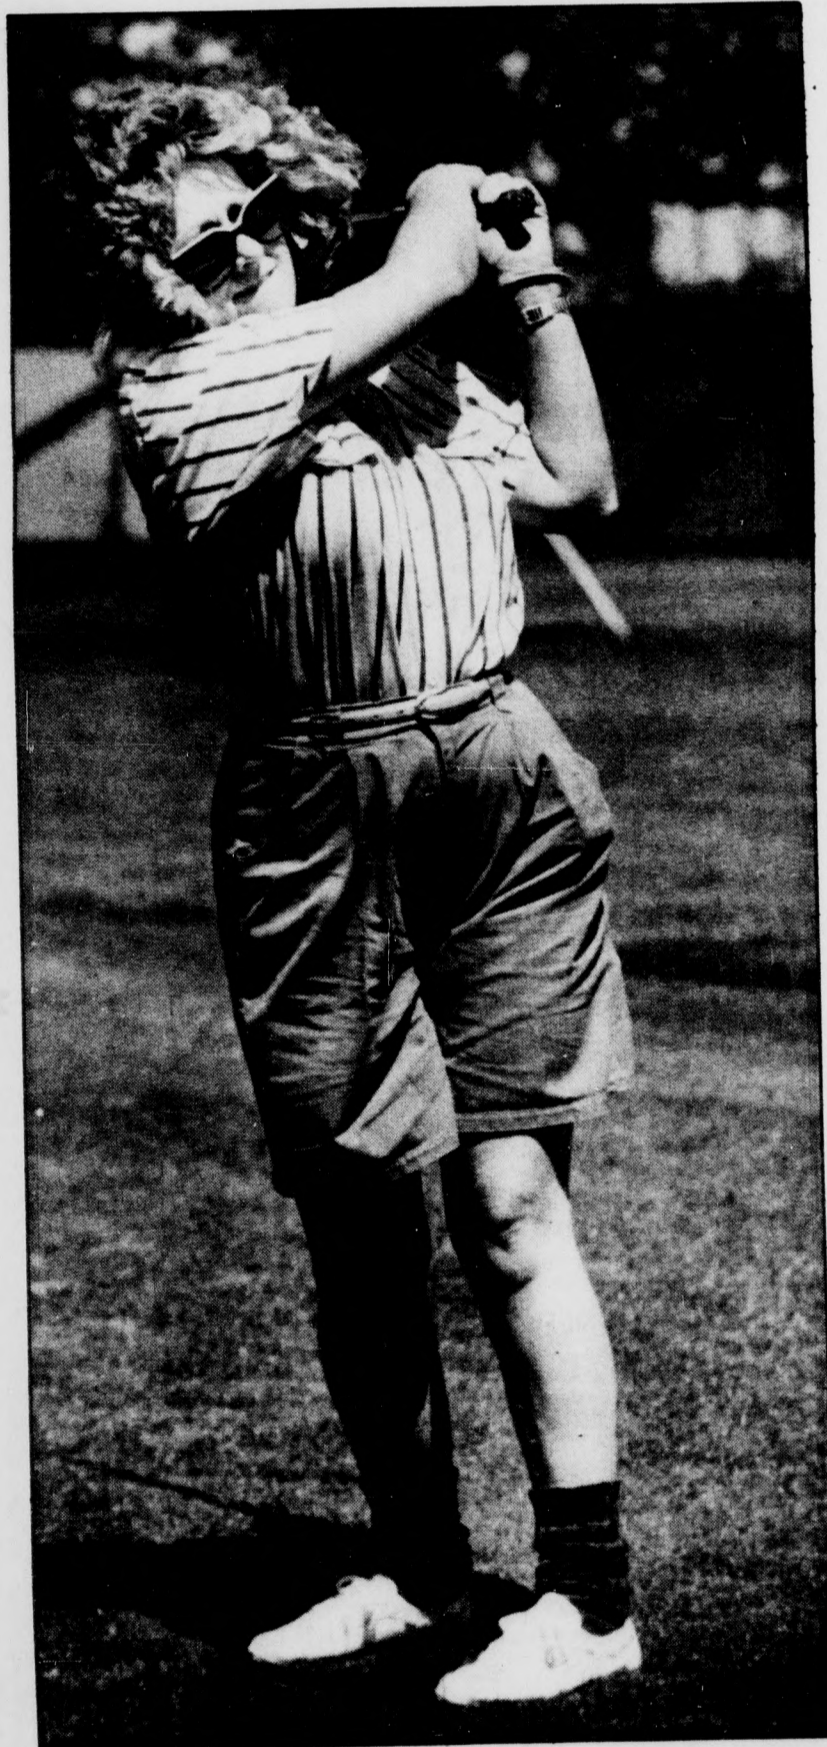

"A lot of places won't let you play without spikes, but we haven't gotten into that," Tibbetts said. "We work on it everyday, so they're not going to do much damage without spikes."

The relaxed atmosphere and charitable distances make for a pleasant mix of fun and competition, according to Tibbetts. Outings that mix experienced golfers with novices would fit well on the course, he said.

"Some companies have tournaments and a lot of their employees have never played golf," Tibbetts explained. "They go out and hack around and have a terrible time. This is great for good golfers and great for others who rarely play."

Chaffey College shortstop Amy Colton, an all-state selection, rips into a pitch during a recent batting practice.

Lure of diamond pays off for Panthers

Ritter puts together winning softball team in first season

By Geoff Smith
Bulletin Staff Writer

Prior to the season, Tim Ritter was simply hoping to put together a softball team at Chaffey College that could compete in the Foothill Conference.

A task made difficult since there has not been a softball team at Chaffey in three years, leaving the veteran high school coach without any returning players as he attempted to rebuild the program.

After recruiting enough local talent to field a team, though, he figured he had a winner.

Now, after winning the conference title with a record of 16-2, Ritter thinks the Panthers (32-9) can be one of the top junior college teams in the state.

"If we keep the nucleus (of this team) together," he said, "we could be one of the best in the state."

That task is usually difficult at the junior college level, which only allows athletes two years of eligibility. This team, however, is made up entirely of freshmen, leaving all 11 players eligible to return next season.

Ritter worked hard to create that nucleus, drawing on his knowledge of high school athletes in the area.

"I just started recruiting real heavy," he said, adding that he even tracked down women who had been out of high school for one or two years but had not gone to college.

Ritter's hard work paid off as he assembled a talented, aggressive group of women.

That combination has resulted in what he calls a "high-powered offense," which led the conference in runs scored and team batting average. Of the 11 women on the team at season's end, nine were hitting .300 or higher.

"This is probably one of the best hitting teams I've seen," Ritter said in a tone that was more awe-struck than boastful.

"I don't know if I should take credit for anything," he explained. "I was lucky to get a lot of good players. I had the right athletes."

On a team of such talent, it's hard to single out any one player as the best of the bunch.

Shortstop Amy Colton certainly made her bid, though. Ritter referred to the Chaffey High graduate as a "tremendous hitter" and an "excellent defensive shortstop."

In more than 150 plate appearances, she batted .438 and struck out only twice. Colton finished the regular season with 55 hits, 48 runs and 42 runs batted in to lead the team in those categories, Ritter said.

Colton was a first-team all-conference selection and was chosen by the state's coaches to the all-state squad. In all, Chaffey landed nine on the all-Foothill Conference list.

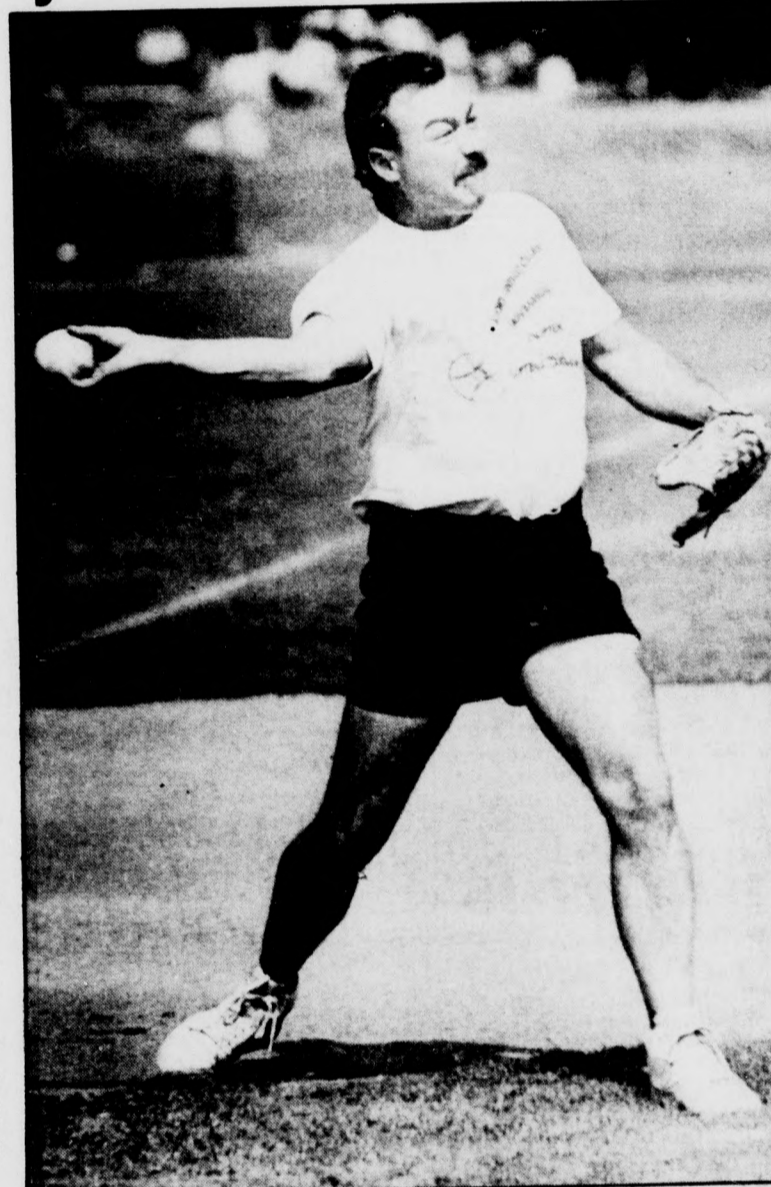

Becky Moller had the top batting average on the team, though. Despite a slow start, the Rubidoux High product finished second in the conference in hitting at just under .500.

Struggling at the outset, Moller became more aggressive at the plate. She began swith-hitting and also made use of her good speed by adding the slap bunt to her repertoire as she made her run for the batting title.

The offensive depth continues with Chris Barraras and Maria Vera, both of whom were part of the all-conference selections.

Barraras, a Ganesha High School graduate who split time at catcher and first base, batted .378 in conference.

Vera had taken a year off to work after graduating from Coach Tim Ritter, filling in at third during infield practice, put together a successful softball team at Chaffey College after the program had idled for three seasons.

Ontario in 1988, but Ritter persuaded her to attend Chaffey and join his team. In return, she collected 45 hits on the way to a .378 overall batting average. She also added six home runs and drove in 35 runs and was a first team all-conference selection and all-Southern California pick as well.

Perhaps the most valuable player on the team, however, has been Kris Estes.

The pitcher out of Don Lugo High School led the Panthers with seven home runs to go along with a .398 average. Her prowess on the mound, however, made Chaffey more than just an outstanding offensive team, Ritter said.

Estes and Monica Vargas teamed up to give Ritter a formidable pitching staff.

Local soccer squad captures State Cup

By Garry de'Garmo
Bulletin Staff Writer

Perhaps someday standard field issue for the Alta Loma Arsenal boys soccer team will be a box of road maps. The team sure needed a set this season.

The Arsenal's squad of boys competing in the under-16 age bracket won the California State Cup championship late last month, completing a season that saw the team win 43 games, tie four times and lose only once.

Along the way, the team traveled to all the usual soccer hotspots in the Southern California, with a summer trip to Europe thrown in for good measure.

The youth soccer season is a gruelling affair, beginning in the spring and running through almost a full calendar year, with a four-month break during the high school soccer season.

The Arsenal, coached by Betty Williams and assistant George Candy, kicked off the 1989-90 season last summer by winning a Fourth of July tournament by sweeping four games.

Then the team embarked on an 18-day tour of Europe, starting its voyage by winning a tournament in Copenhagen, Denmark, against the Bromby national team, followed by victories in Wales and England. On the tour the Arsenal posted a 9-0-1 record.

Returning home on Aug. 4, Alta Loma won four games and tied one in winning the San Diego tournament, then went 13-1 in the Mountain View League, losing only a controversial 2-1 decision to the Riverside Lazars.

After a November-through-March break while many members of the team played high school soccer, the Arsenal reassembled and promptly won the Celtic Shamrock Classic in Upland in March, going 4-0, including a 2-0 victory over the LaJolla Nomads in the finals.

When the team followed that up by winning the League Cup playoffs at Red Hill Park in Rancho Cucamonga, it qualified the Arsenal for the state playoffs.

First was a four-game sweep of its competition in the opening round in Bakersfield. In the quarter-finals in San Bernardino, they beat the Santa Anita Chargers 1-0, then downed LaJolla (again) in the semifinals at UC Irvine 2-1.

That thrust the Arsenal into the championship finals at Bakersfield against its old league nemesis, the Lazars, and Alta Loma used a goal by Rodney Lee to win the title, 1-0, on April 28.

"It was really ironic that we played the Riverside team in the finals," Williams said. "It was sweet revenge to beat them in the championship game."

The team's only loss came at the hands of the Lazars, who scored a disputed goal last September during regular season play. Tied 1-1 with about 12 minutes to play in the game, an Arsenal player accidentally kicked the ball into the Alta Loma own goal during an out-of-bounds play. When an argument ensued following the goal, the referee declared the game over and walked off the field, robbing Alta Loma of any chance to rally.

Williams said she wasn't at all surprised by the team's success, and can't wait to get the new season started later this month in a special Memorial Day tournament in San Juan Capistrano.

"When the season began we had high hopes, because we were coming off an excellent season," she said. The 1988-89 team, playing in the under-14 bracket, won a national title and most of the players returned.

"We didn't have any problems this year," she said. "They is what we set out to do and we did it."

"And we did something that is virtually unheard of in youth soccer, having a player score 100

Spartans hopeful in CIF swimming

By Rob Miesch
Bulletin Staff Writer

When Terry McNiff inherited the coaching duties of Damien High School's boys swim team, he was told by faculty members that the Spartans had the Baseline League title "wrapped up."

He believed those words while watching the team warmup for the first time, and McNiff now feels that his core group of swimmers will open more eyes today as the CIF 3A Division championships open at Belmont Plaza in Long Beach.

"I'd like to do some damage in CIF," McNiff said. "All these guys are fantastic all-around swimmers, and they all have their specialties."

Chuck Ballingall, last season's head coach who has been devoting more time to his duties as the Damien debate coach, is impressed with this year's group of swimmers.

"They're a really nice group of kids," Ballingall said. "The potential is there for as many as four or five All-Americans."

The Spartans cruised through the Baseline League to finish 7-0 to wrap up their seventh straight league championship.

Damien also won one pre-season meet, which puts its current meet winning streak at 54 straight.

"I kinda got lucky stepping into this," said the 24-year-old McNiff, who swam on club teams as a youngster in Cupertino and attended St. Mary's in the Bay Area. "They have had a strong program, and all I had to do was make sure everything ran OK."

McNiff, a freshman English teacher at Damien, said he was pleasantly surprised after seeing the Spartans that first day.

"My first impression was, 'Wow, these guys can really fly,'" McNiff said. "They're some good swimmers, and to watch their caliber is really a treat. My first impressions were that these guys are dedicated and very, very talented."

"Unfortunately, the whole team wasn't. That would be incredible."

Indeed, four Spartans will be swimming in a total of 18 events today and Saturday.

George Giziotis, a senior co-captain of the Spartans with senior Esteban Chavez, was most impressive last week in the league finals at Claremont High School.

Giziotis broke the league record in the 50-meter freestyle in the preliminaries on May 2, then reset the record in the finals last Friday in 21.93 seconds.

Before Giziotis shattered it, Mike Grabowski's 1981 mark in the 50 free was the longest-standing record in the league.

Grabowski, of course, was a Spartan.

"George is an exceptional swimmer with fantastic talent," McNiff said. "His roots are in Greece, and his mother and father push him hard and make sure things go all right."

"I think that combination gave us the best pitching in the conference," he said. Both put up impressive numbers for the Panthers. Estes went 15-4 with a 1.17 earned run average and Vargas, out of Montclair, was 14-5 with a 1.31 ERA. Vargas was 7-0 with a 1.17 ERA in conference.

Estes was named MVP in the conference and was selected all-Southern California. Vargas was an conference selection.

Having so many talented individuals can cause problems in a team sport, especially when they haven't played together before, according to Ritter.

"All of those girls were the best on their teams in high school," he said. "There was a real struggle (at the start)."

After a while, though, the players grew closer and started playing as a team.

"About halfway through the season we gelled," Ritter explained.

With state regionals beginning this week, he still sees room for improvement. He mentions the overall lack of speed on the team, but seems more concerned about the team's effort on the field.

"We haven't come to the point where we push ourselves," he said. "When we do we'll be one of the best teams in the state."

His aggressive brand of softball calls for women who are willing to give everything they have to win. He wants his team to diving for balls, sliding into second base and getting their uniforms a little dirty.

"When it gets down to this level (the playoffs), you're looking at one-run ball games," he said. "The team that makes mistakes first loses."

goals in a season."

That goal was achieved when Alfred Partida notched his 100th goal in the next-to-last game of the season, against La Jolla in the State Cup semifinals.

"As he got closer (to 100 goals) it became a self-inflicted goal," the coach said. "All the boys on the team wanted him to make it and everybody was really excited when he got it."

Partida was one of four players on the team who used the break in the season to play for their high school varsity teams. Partida starred for Don Lugo High School, while Lee was on the Alta Loma team, co-captain Matt Winecki played at Bishop Amat and Noah Doyle at San Bernardino High School.

Rounding out the Arsenal roster were Rusty Haller, co-captain Ryan Robson, Kevin Posey, Scott Jones, Alfredo Perez, Gary Berky, Josh McClane, Mario Sanchez, Mike Wallace, Derek Gildner and Martin Palos.

Haller starred as the team's goalkeeper, and he was so impressive that a team from England tried to recruit him during the Arsenal's European tour.

"Manchester United asked him if he'd like to come and join their program," Williams said, "to which is mother calmly declined."

Haller, who lives in Corona, allowed only two goals in the State Cup playoffs.

Next up for the Arsenal is a round of tryouts on May 20 at 3:30 p.m. on the Cucamonga Junior High School south field, with any players with above-average soccer skills invited to try out.

The team will be stepping up in age-group competition, with the top teams earning the right to compete in the national tournament.

"We're going for the nationals next year; that's what we want," said Williams. "We want to be the only team in the state to win three years in a row. And we want to go to the Dallas Cup (an international invitation-only event) too."

For more information on the Arsenal tryouts, call Williams at 987-3503.

The Arsenal wasn't the only Alta Loma team to do well in the recent State Cup competition. The Alta Loma Outlaws under-19 squad, coached by Al England, won the State Cup after winning the Spring Classic in San Diego followed by the league title and league cup tournament. In the State Cup finals the Outlaws beat La Jolla 3-1.

vein of co-operation that several entities came together to make the Creekside Course possible.

Barratt American developed the Creekside neighborhood, and built the course as part of the approval process for the City of Ontario. The course actually sits on right-of-way land of the Edison Corporation, which agreed to let Barratt build the facility.

Once completed, the course was handed over to the City of Ontario, which leased its operation to NG&T, with Edison standing aside as a benevolent landowner.

Glen Worthington, a Barratt American spokesman, said Edison was eager to help with the efforts to build the course.

"Edison has an open-minded policy towards things in their right-of-way. It likes to have them used."

Worthington also said the decision by the city and his company to construct the golf course to complement the Creekside housing development was an early step in a new direction.

Alta Loma schoolchildren take a look at their environment

The following letters were written as part of an Earth Day assignment by sixth-graders in Judy Bach's class at Alta Loma Elementary School.

My name is Nathan and I am 11. I am a student at Alta Loma Elementary. I am disgusted with the problem in America. When we go to the store sometimes we get plastic bags. They take 10-20 years to decompose. A bag will lay around that long. You can use a bag more than once. You can also ask for paper bags, they can recycle. Thank you for taking your time to read this.

NATHAN WILLIAMS
Alta Loma

I am a student who is concerned about water. I am 11 years old and I would like to talk to you about water. I do not understand why people constantly use water improperly. For example, when they use their toilets for a trash can and it wastes a lot of water. If people could only understand the cost of water and the water shortage then we could save a lot of water. I am young and already learning the cost of water and what we should do to save it! Thank you so much for your time and concern about water.

AMBER KRIEDEL
Alta Loma

Hi, my name is Jill Nelsen and I'm in sixth grade at Alta Loma Elementary. I'm concerned about our environment because we have cans and bottles all over the ground. People don't know how easy it is to recycle. People who recycle are helping the world a lot. Please talk to people about this problem because this will help this world a lot. Thanks for reading this letter.

JILL NELSEN
Alta Loma

My name is Lisa Daley and I'm a sixth grader at Alta Loma Elementary.

I'm concerned about the use of aerosol cans in our environment. Scientists have proven over and over again that the fumes from the spray cannot assimilate in the air therefore polluting not only the air we breathe but ultimately destroying the ozone layer.

If the ozone layer is destroyed there will not be a future for my generation and any future generations.

I urge you to help stop the use of aerosol cans to save our environment.

LISA M. DALEY
Alta Loma

My name is Sarah Carpenter and I'm in 6th grade at Alta Loma Elementary. We have been studying recycling.

I'm disgusted by all the trash that lays around on the streets and even in some backyards. I can't believe that people don't recycle when it's not hard and you get money for it. It's destroying our environment.

Thank you for your time and all the people who are already helping our environment.

SARAH CARPENTER
Alta Loma

How are you doing? I am doing fine and I hope to hear the same from you.

I am writing to you about something really wonderful that everyone should do: "recycle." I will tell you about it.

My name is Akash Dandappanavar, I am 10 years old. I am writing from Alta Loma Elementary School.

My concern in recycling is we are getting less places to keep garbage, but half of the garbage are things we can recycle. Did you know a glass bottle takes one million years to decompose? Thanks a lot for all your time and effort.

AKASH DANDAPPANAVAR
Alta Loma

I am a sixth grader in Alta Loma, and since I am learning about recycling and littering in my class, I have decided to look into what has been happening in my neighborhood.

I have been disgusted by the way people treat our yards and streets. There have been bottles in the middle of the street and no one cares about it. There has also been piles of garbage in the middle of my street. I say the $1,000 fine for littering is not working.

I thank the press for publishing this letter to make people more aware of what is happening in our neighborhoods. I also give thanks to all the people who already have been trying to help stop littering.

JOE DeROSA
Alta Loma

Hi, my name is Jena'e Richardson. I'm in 6th grade at Alta Loma Elementary School. I am 12 years old.

I'm concerned about the ozone layer. We already have one hole in our ozone layer. I wish people would stop using aerosol cans.

I'm not saying that you should give up hairspray or deodorant. I'm saying that you shouldn't use aerosol cans. You can get pump hairspray and you can get roll-on deodorant. Aerosol cans are ruining our ozone layer. I'm worried about our ozone layer and you should be too. Earth Day is Sunday, April 22, 1990. You should stop using and buying aerosol cans in honor of Earth Day.

JENA'E RICHARDSON
Alta Loma

My name is Gregory Chase. I live in Alta Loma and I'm in the sixth grade. You know as well as I do that the world is turning into pollution.

My concern is recycling. So many people are throwing away so many things that can be recycled and they even get money for it.

We can recycle many things like cans, paper and several other things. If we recycle the world will become a better and more peaceful place.

Thank you for your time and hope this letter will, get to people's mind and they'll start recycling.

GREGORY M. CHASE
Alta Loma

My name is Rhiannon Klingonsmith and I am 11 years old. I am from Alta Loma.

I am concerned about trash. Our world will be unlivable in 100 years or sooner if American keeps throwing away everything.

You can always recycle bottles, cans and newspapers. If you can just recycle a few cans, you will see improvements everywhere. If you don't recycle now we'll be living in our own litter.

Thank you for your time to read this and please care about the earth we live on.

RHIANNON KLINGONSMITH
Alta Loma

My name is Angela Currie. I am 11 years old and I live in Alta Loma.

My concern is about people getting plastic bags from the grocery store. I just want you to know that these bags take 10-20 years to decompose. They are hurting the environment by sitting there and littering the world.

Thank you for being a good person and listening to my concerns.

ANGELA CURRIE
Alta Loma

My name is Beau Baumgart. I live in Alta Loma. I am in the sixth grade. I'd like to get right to the point.

First of all, just about everywhere I go, I see Coke cans on the ground. I mean how hard is it to put the cans in a paper bag after it is empty? The good part about it is that you can get five cents per can. Just think, if you filled up two Vons paper bags, you can get $8, and that's not bad. If everybody starts now, we can have a nicer, and more beautiful world.

Selection a pleasant change for R.C. man Notebook /from Page 10

By Justin Sherman
Bulletin Staff Writer

There have been times in the past when it seemed as though Michael Deak wouldn't have any luck if he didn't have bad luck.

But all that's beginning to change to for the Rancho Cucamonga composer, whose work was recently chosen by the Pacific Composers Forum to be performed this month at an outdoor concert in Griffith Park.

The achievement is a tremendous source of inspiration for the man who has spent the last 29 years toiling in obscurity, wondering if his work would ever be appreciated by an audience larger than the dozen people who showed up for Deak's last performance — playing background piano at Rosa's restaurant in Ontario.

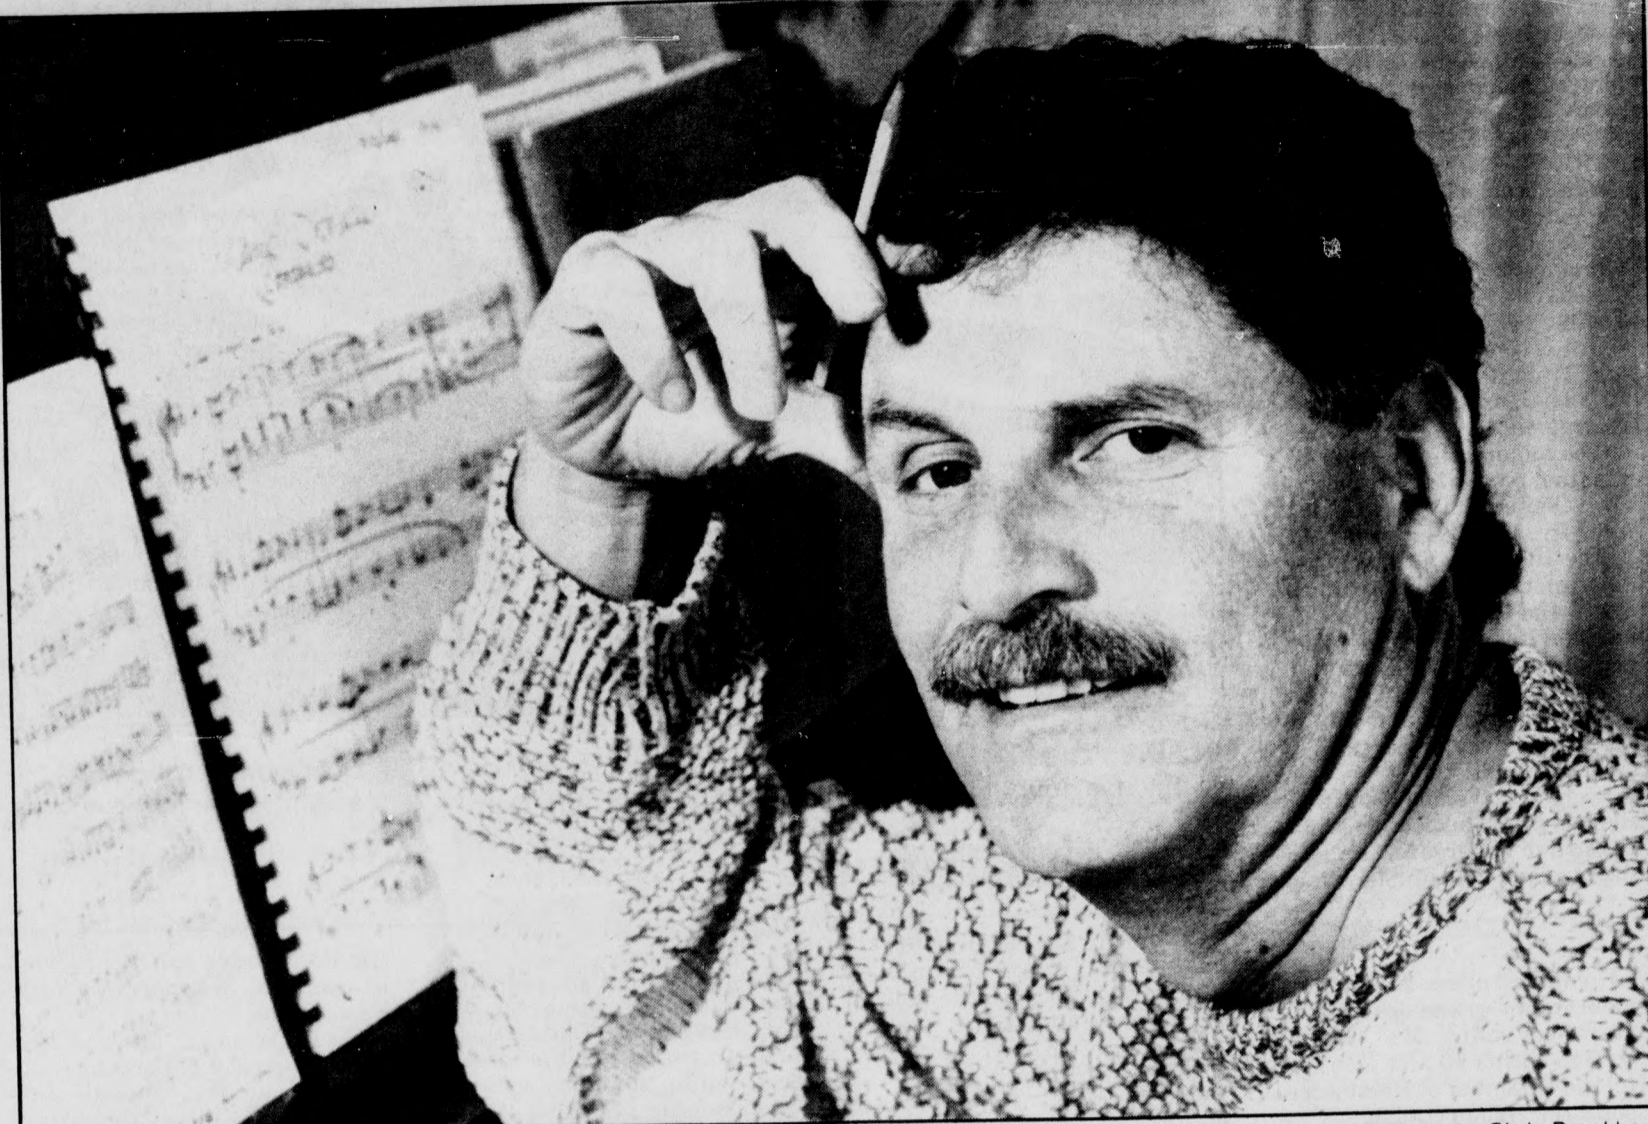

The 47-year-old Deak didn't write his first piece of music until he was almost 20 and often bemoaned the fact that his contemporaries "had a 15-year edge on me."

But still, as a music school graduate of the University of Southern California, Deak was committed to his dream of becoming a successful composer.

Upon graduation in 1966, he began working as a window clerk at the Post Office in Sierra Madre because it gave him time to pursue his music.

It appeared as though Deak got his first big break in the late '60s while performing with a rock 'n' roll band called Mozaic Tweed.

The group was playing clubs such as the Palladium and Spectrum 2000 in Hollywood when they were invited to perform a series of engagements in Europe that would have paid as much as $1,500 a night.

Because of an unexpected logistical snafu, the band wasn't able to secure foreign work permits before their departure date and ended up losing the gig.

The band broke up two weeks later and Deak sadly recalls "being forced back into the woodshed," a term musicians use for returning to the isolation of simply practicing their skills.

Deak continued his routine of working at the Post Office by day and writing music by night until 1979, when he took a job operating the 100-inch telescope at the Mount Wilson Observatory.

He didn't mind the long hours or the isolation that allowed him time to reflect on his music.

"And when the astronomers weren't around, I went sightseeing through the universe."

has made the operation much more efficient says Jennifer Gill, field operations supervisor, and her staff of crew leaders, Patricia Batka, Lisa Bodley, Kyle A. Fukuda and Katherine S. Mitchell.

They would like at this time to acknowledge and express their appreciation for Galvez's continued support in donating his office located at 9227 Haven, Suite 250, Rancho Cucamonga.

SUMMER SCHOOL: The Cucamonga School District will offer a summer school program for grades on through eight from June 18 to July 13. The program will run from 8 a.m. to 12:20 p.m. each day at Cucamonga Elementary School and Los Amigos Elementary School. Students in the academic core program will continue with the regular school curriculum in reading, language arts and math.

Lunch will not be provided. Transportation will be provided on a limited basis. The deadline to register for the summer program is Friday. Parents may obtain registration forms at their child's school.

The program is free. Pre-registration is recommended and can be done at 605 N. Park Ave. or 1515 W. Mission or by calling 629-2551.

Alta Loma High juniors to celebrate 'Great Gatsby's' era at party

Generations of people have walked the earth. In the broad perspective of time, the years pass in the twinkling of an eye.

Each generation has left a legacy. May it be the Charleston dance of the Flappers, or the peace sign of the Flower Children, all are worthy of remembrance.

On May 9, 200 Alta Loma High School junior college-prep English students plan to recreate the carefree atmosphere of the "Roaring '20s." This project is known as "The Great Gatsby Party."

Teachers decided to approach the study of F. Scott Fitzgerald's book, "The Great Gatsby" by using an interdisciplinary method. This is a teaching process that combines education departments. For instance, this project combines the study of literature and history. Not only are students reading the literary classic, but also researching art, music, dance, fashion, sports and politics of the era.

This party will be a four-hour, on-campus field trip held in the Auto Shop compound. Not to worry, the grease and grime will have been cleaned up. This site was chosen, because a large, but private area was needed.

Amy Gibson

Once the theater technicians, woodshop students and artists are done, the Auto Shop will be beyond recognition. The entrance will be a speak easy. Inside, large banners will gently wave to the rhythm of the cool breeze. Crazy chords of music float merrily through the air. Bright lights will dazzle and twinkle brightly. Everyone will be dressed to impress, '20s-style. Hopefully, the party will look similar to one of the Great Gatsby's extravagant parties held in his lush back yard.

A portable stage will be used for the party. Students will be giving presentations in the specific area they did research on. For instance one group of students who looked into 1920s politics, will be performing a live reenactment of the St. Valentine's Day Massacre.

Not only will English students be giving skits and demonstrations, but the advanced dance class will be performing the cancan as well.

This interdisciplinary experience, will be an experiment. Alta Loma High School never has attempted a project of this kind before. English teachers got the idea from Montclair High School, which has done the project twice, but on a much smaller scale.

Teachers want to immerse students into the culture of the period. They want students to realize that social and political forces aren't segregated, but operate together to create history.

The Great Gatsby party, held from 8 a.m.-12:30 p.m. will be a memorable experience for all students who attend. Not only will they be entertained, but they will learn. It seems that these two elements can't co-exist, but the party will certainly be an exception. Learning can be fun!

Exercising the right to vote means being able to choose between several candidates running for a position.

Unfortunately at Alta Loma High School, the pickings were slim in the school-wide election for 1990-91 Associated Student Body (ASB) officers.

For whatever reason, may it be fear of rejection or lack of school spirit, a total of 12 people campaigned for the positions of ASB president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, social chairman, historian, ad manager, mascot (two positions open) and pep commissioner. Ad manager was the only office with any competition.

Titles are being meekly passed on. The excitement of creative campaigning and fierce competition was missing this year. Some students didn't even bother to put up posters around campus, knowing they had no challengers.

In past years, dog-eat-dog competition between ASB "hopefuls" sparked enough school spirit to motivate students to vote. This year, candy made people flock to the auditorium foyer to cast their ballot. Instead of the desire for good school government, chocolate seemed to be the reason for voting. What will motivate these students to vote when they arrive at the national legal voting age?

A current ASB officer suggested that the poor participation in the election was due to the fact that students would rather hold a class office. According to the source, class officers have a more involved and challenging job.

Fortunately for the future of Alta Loma High School, the new officers are competent, responsible individuals.

Boy Scout camp offering variety

Historic Holcomb Valley is a camp operated by Old Baldy Council, Boy Scouts of America, and consists of 476 acres. The Boy Scouts are offering a variety of programs for boys aged 8 - 18. The programs consists of scout skills, handicraft, nature, archery, rifle shooting, and aquatics.

A new program for 1990 will include a western motif built around the historic Hitchcock Ranch. This program will be limited to young men 13½ - 18 years by June 1.
